Dear customer,

Our company, a family owned business with 2nd and 3rd generation in charge, is known and perceived as a company focusing on customer satisfaction, quality and safety of our product range and social responsibility.

As a leading distribution company of table- and kitchenware in the Benelux, we source our products from partners and suppliers all over the world who share the same values as our company does.

All products offered by Billiet are produced in accordance with general product safety regulations set out by the European Community, including the European Community Regulation on chemicals and their safe use (REACH). Products which are intended to come into contact with alimentary products comply with European standards on food safety.

Further our company pays special attention to the social and environmental standards applied by our suppliers. We emphasize the importance of fair labor conditions which prohibit the use of child labor under the age specified by national legislation. The supplier may not discriminate based on a person's race, sex, color, sexual preference, language, religion or political conviction and must refrain from any use of forced labour. The supplier must strive to minimize the carbon footprint of its activities and comply with all applicable environmental laws and regulations.

As part of our intellectual property, we cannot reveal our production sites to our customers.

To ensure the correct application of these regulations, we have fine-tuned our internal quality procedures and buyers instructions in recent months. Hereby, we can confirm that our products comply with the above regulations and fulfill your needs in this respect. We work closely together with major laboratories (SGS, Interek, BV).

So we can process, on your demand and at your expense, tests and certificates on our products.

Kind regards,

Christoph Billiet
